HOROSCOPES BY HOLIDAY

BY HOLIDAY MATHIS

week of November 21st - 27th, 2026

Saddle Up for Sagittarius Season

The amount of DNA humans share with horses falls somewhere between what we share with chimpanzees and what we share with bananas, with one mythological exception: Consider the centaur. Half horse, half man, the creature is both the rider and the ride. Sagittarius season starts with adventurous dreams that seem to attract the means to get there.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). One relationship is playing out like a game of tag. It would be a dull game if one person always pursued and the other was always running. The change-up that happens this week, though surprising, will breathe life into the game. The chaser will be chased. The stakes will seem higher. How thrilling.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). A once-simple issue is becoming more complicated this week. The very person you hoped would help you out may be costing you more time and money than help is worth. You're not out to hurt feelings or disappoint anyone, but it's important to make the move that's right for you. This is just business.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You're in a league of your own, competing against yourself, which is even more challenging than operating in established systems. This week, you'll establish guidelines and a plan to make sure your work is adding up in the direction you want it to. Be downright scientific about recording your growth and results along the way.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You want reassurance that you're making the right choices, but right now there's little clear feedback or guidance. It's as if you're driving a long stretch of desert highway with no towns, road signs or even a billboard in sight. With hope and a full tank of gas, this can be relaxing. Trust your direction and the distance you've already covered.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). People need you. There will be days when these needs aren't as pressing as they are now, and you may even miss this part. But right now, they need you, and you need you, too. So don't give tasks more effort than they require. You're capable of doing far more than this situation needs, so meet the need and save your energy.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). In the right situation, you're happy to play the role you've been cast in, though it's not always clear what that role is this week. The rules weren't communicated, and no one is directing the show or handing out a script. Maybe your first move is a decision: Do you take charge or move on to a more organized scene?

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). No one can plan their own breathtaking moments because they usually occur just after a surprise, and it's hard to surprise yourself. But you can surprise someone else! And you don't know how they'll react. Delight? Astonishment? Fear? Laughter? It catches you off-guard and just might take your breath away.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). This week, the thing you badly want happens organically, which makes it all the more memorable. There's no elaborate campaign, no carefully engineered encounter, no need to persuade anyone of your charms. You'll simply be in the right place, being yourself, and the moment will unfold as though scripted from your dreams. Maybe it was.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You're thinking big and imagining a wide range of possibilities for your solar season and beyond. As you rise above the ruckus, human needs, schemes and all the drama that goes with it will seem small compared with the majesty of the distant horizon. You can almost see yourself there, welcomed into a brave new world.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). There's an old saying that the squeaky wheel gets the grease, but you've noticed that the squeaky wheel also gets a reputation for squeaking. This week, you'll consider whether a complaint is worth making or an injustice is worth confronting. Also, if you choose a battle, one is enough. It will take from your full attention.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). A person can spend years trying to become interesting and overlook the far more entertaining pursuit of becoming interested. Actually, it's not a "pursuit" so much as your default this week. Follow that strong internal drive to know what's under the surface of a mysterious person or to find out exactly how and why something works.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Your fans want to know how you got where you are, so they might follow in your footsteps. But you don't owe anyone the information. And it's hard to break down the steps because so much of your talent operates beyond conscious thought. Being good at a thing and being good at explaining it are two different skills.

THIS WEEK'S BIRTHDAYS: In your Year of the Bow, you will finish what you started years ago in a tidy way and feel it is tied up in a neat bow. Then Tasks and projects, healing processes, financial commitments and more will be finished with a similar flourish. You'll collect accomplishments. More highlights: Dietary changes support your optimal health and strength. Relationships become more honest as well as cooperative, adventurous and intellectually stimulating. You'll enjoy cozy evenings with new friends.
